A MESSAGE FROM OUR LEADERS

Friends and Partners,

It is both a privilege and a joy to serve as leaders of United Way of Chautauqua County. This past year marked an exciting milestone as our first full year as a newly merged organization—a year defined by stronger collaboration, expanded impact, and a growing presence across our community. As you read through this report, we hope you'll share in our pride and gratitude for all that we accomplished together and the momentum we're building.

- Together, we celebrated another successful county-wide fundraising campaign under the exceptional leadership of Andy and Lisa Goodell. Their dedication and hard work helped raise an outstanding $1,792,264 in support of our mission. We were especially encouraged by the record number of Tocqueville Society donors (gifts of $10,000 or more). In fact, our Leadership Circle donors collectively contributed more than $467,757 – a powerful demonstration of how United, We Do More.
- We also launched our very first county-wide Day of Caring, bringing together 66 volunteers who served at 15 project sites, contributing more than 300 hours of hands-on service in a single day. That spirit of service extended far beyond one event. When you combine volunteers supporting our campaign, allocations process, VITA program, Wegmans bagging events, reading to kids during Literacy Week, Girls In Sports, our golf tournament, and our Board of Directors, an incredible 560 volunteers gave 3,476 hours of their time to United Way last year. Their generosity reminds us that philanthropy is measured not only in dollars, but also in time, talent, and compassion. United, We Do More.
- We were proud to celebrate another meaningful milestone when, for the first time in the 44-year history of the Joseph H. Mason Award, the honor was presented to a labor union member from the City of Dunkirk and the United Steelworkers of America. This award recognizes active and retired union members whose commitment to community service reflects the very best of our region.
- Behind the scenes, our Board of Directors completed a strategic planning process that will guide United Way's future, ensuring we remain focused on the community's greatest needs while strengthening our ability to create measurable, lasting change.
- This was also a year of growing awareness around ALICE—Asset Limited, Income Constrained, Employed—families who work hard yet continue to struggle to afford the basics. Through 19 ALICE Experiences with leaders across the education and healthcare sectors, we helped more community members better understand the challenges facing thousands of hardworking households in Chautauqua County and the role we can all play in creating solutions.

Perhaps most importantly, we fully implemented our new community investment and collective impact framework. Working alongside our funded partners, we began measuring outcomes across 46 programs aligned with our four strategic impact areas: Youth Opportunity, Health Equity, Community Resiliency, and Self-Sufficiency. This work represents more than a new funding model—it reflects a shared commitment to investing in strategies that produce meaningful, measurable results for our community.

None of these accomplishments happened because of one organization acting alone. They happened because individuals, businesses, labor partners, volunteers, nonprofits, and donors chose to work together toward a common purpose. Alone, we can only do so much. United, We Do More.

CAMPAIGN CO-CHAIRS

Andrew Goodell

Goodell, an attorney and Jamestown native, served Chautauqua County for decades in public office – and from 2011 to 2024 at the state level as Assemblyman. When his Assembly term ended in 2024, one of his first commitments was a volunteer one: co-chairing the United Way of Chautauqua County's annual fundraising campaign.

Lisa Goodell

Goodell brings more than 36 years of nonprofit leadership to the campaign, including service as Executive Director of Girl Scouts of Western New York and, until her retirement in 2020, Executive Director of the Chautauqua Blind Association – both funded community partners of United Way.

This year, United Way of Chautauqua County carried the momentum of its first countywide campaign as the “United Ways” to a new milestone – its first campaign as one officially-merged organization. While the work of the campaign remained the same, United Way continued to build on the groundwork laid last year, holding more campaign presentations, reaching more workplaces all the while sharing a single message: that on our own we can only do so much, but united we do more.

Under the leadership of Campaign Co-Chairs Andrew and Lisa Goodell, the 2025 Campaign launched with a kickoff at Tulip’s Brunch House in Mayville, bringing together the partner agencies, volunteers, donors, and community leaders who power United Way’s work. The Goodells brought a unique pair of perspectives to the role – with Andy’s decades of public service and Lisa’s decades leading the very kinds of community organizations United Way funds. Together, they shared the conviction that the campaign is not about raising money. It’s about the impact United Way is able to make locally as a result of the campaign and how essential the work is to children, families and seniors right here in Chautauqua County.

Throughout the campaign, the United Way staff met community members where they were at: from shop floors, back-to-school events, seasonal festivals, early morning shift changes, on school buses and more. Presentations were delivered in English and Spanish, sometimes to crowds of more than 100 and other times to as few as a handful – and all because United Way believes that if someone is going to be asked to give, staff should stand in front of them and share the measurable local impact of their gift. Last year alone, United Way programs impacted the lives of local individuals a total of 63,249 times.

When it comes down to it, United Way’s annual fundraising campaign is all about people. Volunteers powered the campaign from start to finish, from delivering campaign packets and assembling mailings to championing United Way inside their respective workplaces. Generosity showed up at every level, from individual donors at workplaces to the members of our Leadership Circle to the support of our longtime foundation partners, labor unions and corporate sponsors who all help make impact possible here at home in Chautauqua County.

And that is what this year’s campaign message was all about: On our own, we can only do so much. United, as donors, volunteers, partners, and neighbors, we do more.

The 2025 Fundraising Campaign surpassed its goal of $1.7 million, an achievement made possible by the generosity of local donors. In total, the 2025 Campaign raised $1,792,264. Leadership Circle members again made an outsized impact, with 242 donors contributing a total of $467,757.

About United Way's Annual Impact Awards

Established in 2020 during United Way's 100th anniversary, the award is presented to individuals who have been impacted in some way by United Way or its partner network and who are now making a meaningful difference in the lives of others.

JACOB THIERFELDT

As a dedicated employee at Wegmans, Jacob Thierfeldt played a central role in helping lead the United Way workplace campaign at Wegmans this year, ensuring that every employee had the opportunity to learn about United Way's mission, ask questions, and be invited to participate.

Jacob's involvement began after participating in the ALICE Experience, which opened his eyes to how many hardworking families in Chautauqua County are living close to the financial edge. That awareness led him to take action through volunteering with United Way partner agencies, giving as a donor, and using his voice to encourage others to get involved.

RON & MELISSA CHWOJDAK

Ron and Melissa Chwojdak have given countless hours leading CPR trainings, responding to local emergencies, supporting disaster relief efforts outside the county, coordinating blood drives, assisting with smoke alarm installations, and volunteering at the Fred Basket Food Pantry in Fredonia.

Their service is deeply personal. Ron was once supported by the Red Cross during his service in Vietnam, and Melissa's family experienced firsthand the life-saving importance of blood donations.

SPECIAL CAMPAIGN EVENTS

Throughout the year, United Way of Chautauqua County brings the community together for events that are about more than fundraising. They are a chance to gather, to celebrate, and to be part of United Way. From the ice to the greens to a great outdoor concert stage, these gatherings turn community spirit into momentum for the annual campaign, and they remind us how much we can accomplish when we come together.

CURLING NIGHT

Now in its third year, United Way's annual Curling Night at Northwest Arena drew a dozen teams to hit the ice this past November. The "total points" style event was first launched in 2023 by then-Campaign Chair Rex McCray and was again spearheaded by Rex this past year in partnership with Northwest Arena Executive Director Keith Martin.

AG TEAM CHARITY GOLF CLASSIC

Now in its 13th year, the AG Team United Way Charity Golf Classic remains one of United Way of Chautauqua County's signature events, a staple of our fundraising in Northern Chautauqua County and a meaningful annual tradition for the community. Held each year at Shorewood Country Club, this year's tournament was scheduled for June 22 but had to be postponed due to inclement weather and rescheduled for July 13, when golfers, sponsors, and volunteers turned out in full force. The tournament was sponsored this year by Title Sponsor AG Team; Gold Sponsors First American, Purina, Southern Chautauqua Federal Credit Union, Dupers, and the Fredonia Beaver Club; Silver Sponsors DFT Communications, TPS Petroleum Products, and South Ripley Solar Project; and Bronze Sponsors Brooks TLC Hospital, Courier Capital, Fredonia Place, Putnam Record Insurance Agency, and Southern Tier Environments for Living. Thanks also to Media Partner Kix Country 96.5 FM.

UNITED WAY DAY AT SOUTHERN TIER BREWING COMPANY

In its second year this past year, United Way Day at Southern Tier Brewing Company proved bigger and better than the first, with a full day of live music, sunshine, and community spirit on display. Thanks to the musicians for donating their time and talents: Slim and Red, Derek Davis, Porcelain Busdrivers, Charity Nuse and her band, and Vinny and The Mudflaps. During the day, a portion of proceeds from sales were donated by Southern Tier to UWCHQ. Andrew Jasper at Southern Tier Brewing Company and John Streed of Blue Moon Management created and coordinated this annual event. MegaSound provided the sound and lighting that kept the music great from start to finish.

365 SMALL BUSINESS CIRCLE

The 365 Small Business Circle invites local businesses to invest in their community for just $1 a day. When a small business joins, its annual gift helps power United Way's work across Chautauqua County, strengthening the very community its customers and employees call home. Small business, big impact.

COLLECTIVE IMPACT

Creating lasting change in a community doesn't happen through one program or one organization alone. It takes people, partners, and systems working together toward shared goals. United Way of Chautauqua County and its partner agencies are helping to close gaps and ensure that individuals across the county have the support they need to secure a better future – for themselves and the community.

Our work focuses on four key areas that help individuals and families build stability and thrive: Youth Opportunity, Health Equity, Community Resiliency, and Self-Sufficiency.

Helping young people realize their full potential, from birth to graduation.

Improving health and well-being, especially for our most vulnerable neighbors.

Addressing immediate needs today to strengthen the community and prepare for tomorrow.

Creating a ready workforce and a stronger financial future for every generation.

Last year, UNITED WAY programs impacted the lives of local individuals 63,249 TIMES.

346 women were able to find stable housing and a safe environment, away from domestic violence crises.

1,489 seniors received resources and services needed to remain independent in their homes.

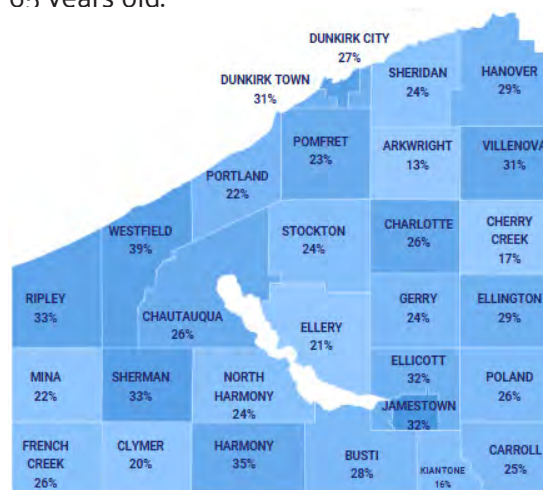

Families had their basic and emergency needs met 13,738 times.

19,254 positive impacts on local youth.

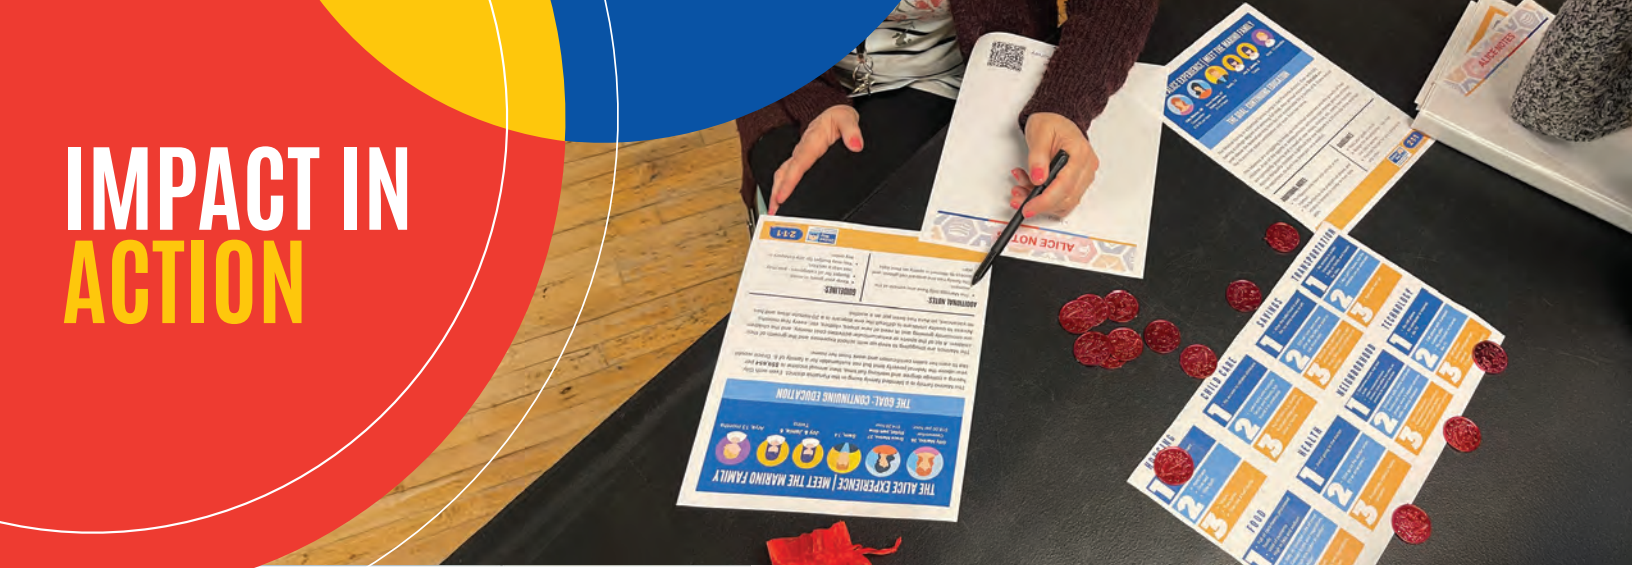

THE NEED

The need in Chautauqua County is real, and growing. Families are struggling to make ends meet. 46% live at or below the ALICE Threshold. ALICE – Asset Limited, Income-Constrained, Employed describes individuals who earn too much to qualify for many services, yet still cannot afford the basics. One in three children in our county live in poverty. 22.5% of the population is over 65 years old.

ALICE PERCENTAGES IN CHAUTAUQUA COUNTY

IMPACT IN ACTION

THE ALICE EXPERIENCE

ALICE is a United Way acronym which stands for “Asset Limited, Income Constrained, Employed.” The term represents the growing number of working individuals and families who work but are having trouble meeting their basic needs, both locally and nationwide.

The numbers tell the story. In Chautauqua County, 46% of households are struggling financially. Of those, 16% live in poverty and 30% fall into the ALICE category. That is nearly half of our neighbors facing impossible choices every month, such as food or medicine – rent or child care.

Here in Chautauqua County, UWCHQ has been helping the community to understand ALICE in recent years through the ALICE Experience. This past year, staff has facilitated this workshop more than 19 times in school districts, with county government departments, high school students, and local employers. We are continuing to deepen ALICE awareness and solutions through expanded community partnerships.

Seeing the challenge clearly is the first step toward meeting it together. The workshop turns awareness into understanding – and understanding into the solutions our community needs.

DAY OF CARING

United Way of Chautauqua County's inaugural Day of Caring demonstrated the power of bringing people together around a shared purpose. Held on August 15, 2025, the event mobilized 66 volunteers and six United Way staff members to complete projects at 12 sites across Jamestown, Dunkirk, and Fredonia – generating nearly 300 hours of service for local nonprofits and schools.

VITA

Each year, United Way of Chautauqua County administers the federal Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) program, training volunteers to prepare income tax returns as a free service for residents who qualify. Volunteers work to secure the largest refund each taxpayer is eligible for, with a focus on valuable credits such as the Earned Income Tax Credit.

This past year, VITA volunteers logged 1,145 service hours and assisted 1,119 taxpayers across Chautauqua County, preparing both federal and state returns. Their work returned $1,922,188 in refunds to local residents and saved taxpayers $292,000 in tax preparation fees, putting real money back in the pockets of working families and seniors. It advances UWCHQ's work in the area of Self Sufficiency, creating a ready workforce and a stronger financial future.

2025 JOSEPH H. MASON AWARD

Community Resiliency

Each year, United Way of Chautauqua County partners with organized labor to recognize an active or retired union member whose exceptional volunteerism and community leadership have made a lasting difference in Chautauqua County. Presented during United Way's annual Salute to Labor dinner, the Joseph H. Mason Community Service Award celebrates the longstanding partnership between United Way and organized labor while honoring those who strengthen our community through service beyond the workplace.

Supporting and recognizing organized labor aligns with United Way's strategic impact area of Community Resiliency by celebrating the individuals who help address today's needs while building a stronger, more connected community for tomorrow.

The 2025 Joseph H. Mason Award was presented posthumously to the late James S. "Jim" Bickhart of Dunkirk, a respected United Steelworkers leader whose decades of labor advocacy and community service left an enduring impact on Chautauqua County. The award was accepted on his behalf by his wife of more than 56 years, Theresa Bickhart, during a ceremony attended by labor leaders, elected officials, and community supporters from across the county.

United Way's Salute to Labor dinner remains one of the organization's most meaningful traditions and is now in its 45th year this coming year. It celebrates the shared values of compassion, advocacy, and solidarity that connect local labor and community impact.

From landscaping and painting to sorting donations and spending time with seniors and children, volunteers tackled a wide variety of projects that strengthened organizations and enriched the lives of those they serve. Agencies benefiting from Day of Caring included the Boys & Girls Clubs, Meals on Wheels in both Jamestown and Dunkirk, Chautauqua Adult Day Services, CASA of Chautauqua, Community Helping Hands, Prevention Works, Wheelock Primary School, and others.

Sponsored by Live CHQ, Refresco, and Wells, Day of Caring brought together volunteers from businesses, foundations, and organizations throughout the county, including Purina, Refresco, Wegmans, Northwest Bank, Tim Hortons, the Ralph C. Sheldon Foundation, The Hartford, Edward Jones, Northern Chautauqua Community Foundation, Cassadaga Job Corps, Rose & Grace Studio, Social Chariot, Creche, and Jamestown Young Professionals.

The day reflected United Way's unique ability to connect individuals, businesses, nonprofits, and schools, leveraging those relationships to mobilize people to action.

COMMUNITY IMPACT

LITERACY WEEK

Thanks to more than 75 volunteers, United Way of Chautauqua County's 2026 Literacy Week reached 1,800 students in 124 classrooms across 10 school buildings in seven school districts between April 20–24. Now in its 11th year, Literacy Week reflects United Way's commitment to Youth Opportunity, helping young people realize their full potential from birth to graduation. Presented in partnership each year with CHQ Professionals Group, the week-long event again provided free books for all students to take home.

This year, United Way's Literacy Week reached the Dunkirk, Fredonia, Forestville, Ripley, Sherman, Sinclairville and Brocton school districts.

Volunteers who participated in Literacy Week 2026 represented a wide range of organizations, highlighting the cross-sector collaboration that makes this event possible. This year's readers came from Jamestown Plastics, Cattaraugus County Bank, Northern Chautauqua Community Foundation (NCCF), SUNY Fredonia, the SUNY Fredonia Women's Soccer Team, Southern Tier Environments for Living (STEL), The Chautauqua Center, Dunkirk Fredonia Telecommunications (DFT), the Boys and Girls Club, Fidelis, the Chautauqua County Partnership for Economic Growth (CCPEG), County of Chautauqua Industrial Development Agency (CCIDA), E2CCB BOCES, the Chautauqua Health Network, Purina, Cassadaga Job Corps, County Government, and Putnam Record Insurance Agency.

Literacy Week was supported by a generous grant from Northern Chautauqua Community Foundation and supported with book sponsorships from Dunkirk-Fredonia Rotary Club as well as several individuals in the community.

COMMUNITY BABY SHOWER

Youth Opportunity

Each year, United Way of Chautauqua County's Community Baby Shower mobilizes the community to support local at-risk mothers and their newborns. Essential items are collected and distributed through United Way's network of partner agencies and other organizations, helping ensure families throughout Chautauqua County have the resources they need to give their children a strong start.

In total, the 2026 Community Baby Shower collected new baby items valued at $8,522. This year's event was supported by Northwest Arena, Patterson Library in Westfield, M&T Bank locations in Fredonia and Jamestown, Bemus Point Golf Club & Tap House, Lane Women's Health Group, and Crown Street Roasting Company. Thanks to James Prendergast Library Association and the Holmberg Foundation for the donation of new board books. Beyond physical donations, we're also thankful for the many individuals who made contributions during the collection drive as well as during Give Big CHQ. Agencies that received donated goods include: CHQ Open Arms Foster Closet, Chautauqua County Rural Ministry, Creche Jamestown, Elm and Oak Health, Jamestown Community Learning Council, The Salvation Army (Dunkirk and Jamestown), Westfield Community Pantry, WIC, and YWCA Jamestown.

By connecting community generosity with the expertise of local partner agencies, United Way mobilizes local resources to strengthen youth opportunity here in Chautauqua County – and help young people realize their full potential from birth to graduation.

GIRLS IN SPORTS

On February 7, United Way of Chautauqua County welcomed 124 girls from five school districts to Steele Hall Fieldhouse at SUNY Fredonia for an athletic and confidence-building event called Girls In Sports. Presented in partnership with Chautauqua Striders and Fredonia State Athletics, the morning brought together girls ages 9 to 12 from the Brocton, Dunkirk, Forestville, Ripley and Chautauqua Lake districts to rotate through six sport stations – soccer, lacrosse, tennis, softball, volleyball, and cheerleading. Led by 120 women collegiate student-athletes, the event saw county girls paired with volunteers serving as mentors and role models.

A total of 99% of participants rated the event as excellent or good, and the same percentage said it inspired them to want to play a sport at their school. For many, the day marked their first time ever stepping onto a collegiate athletic facility. The impact is by design: girls drop out of sports at twice the rate of boys by adolescence, and Girls in Sports works to interrupt that trend. The event reflects United Way's commitment to Youth Opportunity, helping young people realize their full potential from birth to graduation by opening doors not just to new sports, but to a wider sense of what's possible.

POWERED BY PARTNERSHIPS

CENTRAL AVE COWORK

Central Ave CoWork reflects United Way of Chautauqua County's commitment to strengthening the nonprofit sector by creating spaces where collaboration can thrive.

Located within United Way's Dunkirk office, Central Ave CoWork provides "hot desk" cubicles, a 12-seat meeting room, and opportunities for connection among mission-driven organizations. By reducing overhead costs and encouraging collaboration, the space allows nonprofits to dedicate more resources to serving the community while fostering new partnerships and shared solutions.

Central Ave CoWork represents more than a shared office. It is an investment in stronger nonprofits, greater efficiency, and a more connected Chautauqua County.

THE CAPACITY LAB

As a founding partner of The Capacity Lab, United Way of Chautauqua County works alongside regional foundations and nonprofit leaders to increase organizational capacity, foster collaboration, and expand access to high-quality training and resources.

Through professional development opportunities, leadership training, peer learning, and shared problem solving, The Capacity Lab helps local organizations become more resilient, effective, and sustainable.

Offerings provided this past year included monthly peer-led networking and learning events, regional and local leadership cohorts, panel discussions, trainings centered on fundraising and the board president / executive director partnership, and providing resources to local nonprofits.

Capacity Lab partners include the Northern Chautauqua Community Foundation, Chautauqua Region Community Foundation, Ralph C. Sheldon Foundation, and Ralph C. Wilson, Jr. Foundation.

BUSINESS MEETS COMMUNITY:

The very best progress happens at the intersection of business and community. Day of Caring and Impact Tours are components of a program facilitated by United Way called "Business Meets Community."

DAY OF CARING

United Way facilitates volunteer events for groups to give back through a half day of direct service. United Way provides all the coordination for the group to achieve impactful volunteerism at one of many local agencies. It's both a boon to the local agency in need as well as day of teambuilding and staff development.

IMPACT TOUR

Over the course of 2-3 hours, United Way takes groups on a whistlestop tour of agencies in the county to hear from their teams about the programs and impact being made at each site. Individuals get to witness firsthand why giving to United Way matters – as we connect the dots from donorship to allocations to the impact made in the lives of local individuals.
